For this special cause we join forces with Higher Collages of Technology, the largest higher education institution in the UAE, to support children with special needs.

Sponsors and HCT staff and student contributions are donated to Al Ain Private Center for Special Care and Rehabilitation, a non profit, non-governmental humanitarian organisation that provides rehabilitation and care services for children with special needs from across the GCC region.

The center is the largest in the region and is currently building new facilities in order to meet growing demand.
